Risk Information

Investments in equities are subject to market and currency risks that won't be hedged. The fund may invest in emerging markets that may be more volatile and expose to higher operational risk than equity markets of well established economies. The fund may invest in equities through structured instruments that would lose their value if their issuer was to default and be unable to meet its contractual obligations. The fund may invest in securities that are less liquid because buyers/sellers are not always in sufficient numbers to trade these securities readily or because they hold a large portion of their shares. The fund may invest beyond its primary universe which may result in additional risks. Investments in China A Shares in Mainland China are performed through the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect which may entail additional quota limitation, clearing and settlement, regulatory, operational and counterparty risks. Financial derivative instruments may be used as part of the investment process, which may increase the fund volatility and expose the fund to the risk of default of its counterparties. Investments in share-classes that are not denominated in the fund base currency are exposed to losses and gains caused by currency fluctuations. Cash placed in time deposits or money market funds are exposed to their issuer default risk.

The fund may invest in securities that are less liquid because buyers/sellers are not always in sufficient numbers to trade these securities readily or because they hold a large portion of their shares. The fund may invest beyond its primary universe which may result in additional risks. Investments in China A Shares in Mainland China are performed through the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect which may entail additional quota limitation, clearing and settlement, regulatory, operational and counterparty risks. Financial derivative instruments may be used as part of the investment process, which may increase the fund volatility and expose the fund to the risk of default of its counterparties. Investments in share-classes that are not denominated in the fund base currency are exposed to losses and gains caused by currency fluctuations. Cash placed in time deposits or money market funds are exposed to their issuer default risk.

Objective & Strategy

The Fund aims to outperform the FTSE All-Share Total Return Index by 4% per annum, cumulatively. It focuses on businesses with scale attributes, recurring revenues, free-cash generation, 'optionality' and undervalued assets. Risk is controlled via specific attention to de-rating risk and the risk of 'being early' is mitigated. Generally, this concentrated strategy focusses on medium-term time horizons (three years) and is often prepared to look-through near-term volatility for longer-term opportunity. The Fund focusses on companies with secular or structural thematic underpinnings, with decisions very much weighted to 'bottom-up' due diligence and analysis.

Investment Manager

Jeremy Hewlett manages the Mirabaud - UK Equity High Alpha fund as well as specialist UK equity portfolios, and has experience in the portfolio management industry since 1985. Prior to joining Mirabaud in 2004, Mr Hewlett was CIO at Yamaichi Capital Management, Raphael Asset Management and then GHK Asset Management.

Risk Information

Investments in debt securities are subject to interest rate, credit and default risk. The fund may invest in emerging markets that may be more volatile and generate higher operational risks than equity markets of well established economies. The fund may invest in lower rated securities that are subject to higher credit risk and are more volatile than higher rated securities. The fund may invest in asset backed instruments that would lose their value if their underlying assets value was to diminish or if their issuer was to default and be unable to meet its contractual obligations. The fund may invest in securities that are less liquid because buyers/sellers are not always in sufficient numbers to trade these securities readily. Financial derivative instruments may be used as part of the investment process, which may increase the fund volatility and expose the fund to the risk of default of its counterparties. Currency forwards will be used to reduce the currency risk generated by investments in share-classes or instruments that are not denominated in the fund base currency. The effectiveness of that hedging process will be subject to counterparty and operational risk. Cash placed in time deposits or money market funds are exposed to their issuer default risk.

Risk Information

Investments in debt securities are subject to interest rate, credit and default risk. The fund may invest in emerging markets that may be more volatile and generate higher operational risks than equity markets of well established economies. The fund may invest in lower rated securities that are subject to higher credit risk and are more volatile than higher rated securities. The fund may invest in asset backed instruments that would lose their value if their underlying assets value was to diminish or if their issuer was to default and be unable to meet its contractual obligations. The fund may invest in securities that are less liquid because buyers/sellers are not always in sufficient numbers to trade these securities readily. Financial derivative instruments may be used as part of the investment process, which may increase the fund volatility and expose the fund to the risk of default of its counterparties. Currency forwards will be used to reduce the currency risk generated by investments in share-classes or instruments that are not denominated in the fund base currency. The effectiveness of that hedging process will be subject to counterparty and operational risk. Cash placed in time deposits or money market funds are exposed to their issuer default risk.

Objective & Strategy

The objective of the fund is to seek, through a selection of values (European convertible bonds), a medium and long term performance at least equal to that of the benchmark. The achievement of this objective is based, on one hand, on our analysis of market shares and on the other hand, on our quantitative and qualitative credit corporate expertise. We pay particular attention to mid-caps, which represent more than half of the world of convertible bonds. We would like to remind you that convertible bonds are hybrid instruments between fixed income and equity and that the main risks of this fund are: risk of capital loss, equity risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, currency risk and risk of under-performance against the benchmark. These risks are described in detail in the full prospectus. Prior to 1st of July 2015, the benchmark was Exane Europe Convertible Bond Index.

Investment Manager

Renaud Martin works as Portfolio Manager/Analyst in the Convertible Bonds research/portfolio management team. Mr. Martin was Head of Convertibles at Crédit Agricole between 2004 and 2011, where he managed proprietary convertibles portfolios, and prior to that at LFP where he managed the LFP Capital Arbitrage Fund. Mr. Martin has more than 20 years experience in the convertible bonds and equity derivative industry. Nicolas Crémieux is Portfolio Manager/analyst in the convertible bonds team. Prior to joining Mirabaud in 2013, Mr. Crémieux was Head of convertible bonds at Dexia AM.

Risk Information

Investments in debt securities are subject to interest rate, credit and default risk. The fund may invest in emerging markets that may be more volatile and generate higher operational risks than equity markets of well established economies. The fund may invest in lower rated securities that are subject to higher credit risk and are more volatile than higher rated securities. The fund may invest in asset backed instruments that would lose their value if their underlying assets value was to diminish or if their issuer was to default and be unable to meet its contractual obligations. The fund may invest in securities that are less liquid because buyers/sellers are not always in sufficient numbers to trade these securities readily. Financial derivative instruments may be used as part of the investment process, which may increase the fund volatility and expose the fund to the risk of default of its counterparties. Currency forwards will be used to reduce the currency risk generated by investments in share-classes or instruments that are not denominated in the fund base currency. The effectiveness of that hedging process will be subject to counterparty and operational risk. Cash placed in time deposits or money market funds are exposed to their issuer default risk.

The fund may invest in lower rated securities that are subject to higher credit risk and are more volatile than higher rated securities. The fund may invest in asset backed instruments that would lose their value if their underlying assets value was to diminish or if their issuer was to default and be unable to meet its contractual obligations. The fund may invest in equities through structured instruments that would lose their value if their issuer was to default and be unable to meet its contractual obligations. Financial derivative instruments may be used as part of the investment process, which may increase the fund volatility and expose the fund to the risk of default of its counterparties. The fund may invest in securities that are less liquid because buyers/sellers are not always in sufficient numbers to trade these securities readily. The fund may invest in other funds and its liquidity will be affected by the liquidity of those underlying funds. If the underlying schemes suspends or defers its redemptions, this may cause delays when facing large redemptions. Cash placed in time deposits or money market funds are exposed to their issuer default risk.

Objective & Strategy

Haussmann seeks to deliver long-term capital growth through investments in talented and independent money managers. The investment philosophy is based on the selection of "individual talents", who apply an active investment management approach. The managers typically have an absolute return objective combining maximum flexibility with strict risk management and typically aim at high returns. Haussmann invests opportunistically to achieve superior long-term risk-adjusted capital appreciation with meaningful participation in up-markets while delivering protection in down-markets, without the constraints of formal benchmarks.

Investment Manager

Founded in 1974 by the Worms Group and Notz & Stucki. Mirabaud, Banca del Ceresio and Bordier joined Haussmann in the early 80's. Haussmann is managed today by the Investment Committee of the General Partner, which is composed of representatives of Mirabaud Asset Management, Notz Stucki Group and Ceresio Investors. Haussmann's Investment Committee has shown the ability over few decades to adapt to an ever-changing investment environment while remaining true to its original, simple and successful philosophy.
